Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Thomas Keating
2123 N St NW
Washington, DC 20037

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Osiris Aeron
Nile Plumbing
546 E. Fifth Street
New Kensington, PA 15068

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Joseph Jones
Casino Joe's Entertainment Emporium
567 University Rd.
Reno, NV 89523

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Mary Windsor
Ivy League Gardening
9 Front Ave.
Oswego, NY 13126

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Panna Prince
West Polo Ground
7848 Linden St.
Belmont, MA 02478

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Seamus Gomez
Paddy's Pupusas
9851 San Carlos St.
Stow, OH 44224

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Wyzslavia Krychowiak
Manor Club
152 East Myrtle Dr.
Port Washington, NY 11050

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Elon Musk
Tesla
813 Manor Station Lane
Edison, NJ 08817

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Oliver Weiss
53rd and Counting Children's Education Center
194 53rd Road
Lawrence, MA 01841

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Paul Bunyan
Ox's Navels, Bagels and Lox
9045 Saxton Dr.
Longwood, FL 32779

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Maharashi Fuji
Newton's Favorite
9743 Primrose Ave.
Orchard Park, NY 14127

Dear Click2Mail,

       I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

       In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

       I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

       In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

       I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

       In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Marciana Melfi
Colorado Springs Auto Repair
383 Country St.
Colorado Springs, CO 80911

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Current Store Manager
The Gap
7499 Hill Ave.
Old Bridge, NJ 08857

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
25 Carriage Lane
Harlingen, TX 78552

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

       I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

      In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

      I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer. I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

      In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

      I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

 I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

 In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Bill Keating
Willem Will Bill em
1109 N Highland St
Arlington, VA 22201

Jerry West
West Jet
7084 Atlantic Street
Lincolnton, NC 28092

Dear Click2Mail,

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy

for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly.

I'm Thomas Keating, the new guy. I'll be working as a Junior Developer in the IT department and I wanted to take the time to introduce myself. I recently graduated from Amherst College with a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science but completed Computer Science coursework during my time in school. After graduating I started looking for jobs in software development, found Click2Mail, interviewed, and thankfully got the job! I'm really looking forward to contributing to our company in any way I can and growing as a developer.

In a more personal vein, I am a D.C Metro area native, born in Washington D.C proper but raised in Rockville, MD and later Silver Spring, MD. I went to Rockville High School where I ran track, played soccer, debated, competed in our local quiz bowl competition, It's Academic, and was generally too busy for a high schooler. Quiz Bowl was my favorite activity during that time period and I'd love to incorporate a similar trivia activity into my life as an adult. After high school, I went to Amherst College for my bachelor degree where I helped found, and then captain, the Amherst College Club Soccer team. I play soccer locally but miss my old team very much. Along with soccer, writing takes up a good portion of my free time. I keep a thorough ~~diary~~ journal and hope to start/continue blogging regularly. I look forward to working with and learning more about you all in the future!

Best,
Thomas Keating